Voice Smart Networks wins Hawaii dream vacation from FreedomVoice for being top sales partner

FreedomVoice Systems, one of the largest US providers of cloud-based VoIP phone systems, today announced that Voice Smart Networks, Southern California's leading unified communications company, won a competition for the most FreedomIQ seat sales sold over the past 6 months within the TAG organization. Voice Smart Networks representatives will be going on a trip of a lifetime to the Big Island in Hawaii. Hotel, flights and activities will be included such as swimming with the dolphins, snorkeling trips, Luaus and more.

“FreedomIQ from FreedomVoice has been one of our flagship products within the TAG organization over the past 5 years.” said Dale Stein, Partner, TAG. “We are very happy with their VoIP cloud product Freedom IQ and the excellent US based customer care they provide”.

“Voice Smart Networks has been successfully selling FreedomIQ cloud services to our customer base for many years,” said Mark Wadnizak, President of Voice Smart Networks. “The reliability of service, great customer care and easy setup have been some of the key factors to our success as well as the month to month contract.”

“It was down to the wire in the end as this competition was very close with orders coming in over the weekend”, said Eric Thomas, CEO and Founder of FreedomVoice Systems. “We are very much looking forward to hearing wonderful stories of what they did on this vacation of a lifetime”.

About FreedomVoice

FreedomVoice Systems was founded in 1996 and today serves nearly 30,000 customers nationwide. It got its start providing virtual phone systems to small businesses and Fortune 500 companies alike. This service remains a key offering from FreedomVoice, including business-enhancing features such as 800 numbers, an auto attendant, call forwarding, and voicemail-to-text. FreedomVoice Systems launched the FreedomIQ hosted VoIP phone system product line in 2006 in response to overwhelming business demand for hosted VoIP phone service and has been leading the way ever since. All of FreedomVoice System's platform technology has been developed in-house to provide a unique, customizable, and flexible solution that works with any company's workflow. Based in Encinitas, CA, FreedomVoice is privately-held and remains profitable through strategic partnerships and the agility to develop new technologies at the head of the curve.
